

NYC TEACHING FELLOWS

2023 Application Now Open

Use your skills and experience to build a career helping NYC students.

Final Deadline: March 23rd

The 2023 NYC Teaching Fellows application is open! Start your application today. Read on to learn more.

What is the NYC Teaching Fellows program?

The NYC Teaching Fellows program prepares college graduates and career changers to become exceptional teachers, using their skills and experiences to ignite students' imaginations - and challenge them to dream big.

How does the NYC Teaching Fellows program work?

Your experience begins with a pre-service training program in an NYC classroom. After successfully completing training, you'll teach full-time in an NYC public school as you work towards earning your master's degree and teaching certification.

What subjects do the Fellows teach?

Today, a network of more than 10,000 Fellows teach high-need subject areas including Special Education, Science, Math, Spanish, and Bilingual Education.

Is there anyone I can chat with about the application process?

Join an upcoming online information session where you'll learn more about the NYC Teaching Fellows program including our mission, the training model, and the application process. Our recruitment team will be on hand to answer your questions, and show you how the Online Support Center can help in your candidate journey. Click here to learn about upcoming events and reserve your spot.

When is the deadline to submit my application?

The final deadline is March 23rd. Our admissions process is rolling, so we recommend applying and submitting a complete application as soon as possible.

For more information, visit our website and check out our Online Support Center for answers to frequently asked questions.

FOLLOW US:

ONLINE SUPPORT CENTER:

